Program Summary FAQ Clinical Interpretation News Contact Us Register

Japanese Society of Anti-Aging Medicine and Illumina are proud to announce Understand Your Genome® (UYG) to be held on June 4, 2017 in Tokyo, Japan.

The goal of the Understand Your Genome symposium is to facilitate the adoption of clinical whole genome sequencing as a means to advance human health, through responsible, targeted educational outreach.

As an attendee, you will not only experience a highly relevant, deeply personal, and richly educational program; but will also be a part of an exciting movement that is pioneering the application of genomics-based healthcare into mainstream clinical practice.

This edition of Understand Your Genome is designed for those that seek to be among the first to understand and leverage genomics to aid in the management of both illness and wellness.

Registration includes: Attendance at the one-day symposium on June 4, 2017. Participants will also receive the TruGenome™ Predisposition Screen, clinical reports of the findings, and a visual display of their genomic information on the MyGenome web application.

Samples submitted by March 24, 2017 will ensure that your results will be delivered prior to the UYG symposium. Samples received after this date will be delivered approximately 90 days after the sample arrives with the proper documentation at the Illumina Clinical Services Lab.

Illumina is pleased to announce subsidized pricing for this event.

Registration closes March 10, 2017, so please register early.

Fee: $2,900 USD: Full Registration
When: June 4, 2017
12:00PM - 7:00PM
Where: Tokyo International Forum, Tokyo

Registration Questions

① *Please specify your level of education.

② *What term best describes your organization/institution?

③ *What best describes your role/position within your institution/organization?

④ *Where did you hear about Understand Your Genome?

⑤ *How would you rate your understanding of genomics?

⑥ *Have you ever been sequenced/tested by any other method?

⑦ *What are you looking to gain from your UYG experience (select all that apply)? (please hold the ctrl button to select multiple answers)

Experience my genome to develop better tools/resources for managing genomics information
 Improved understanding of genomics and how it affects me
 Improved understanding of the clinical utility of genomics
 Improved understanding of how genomics is being applied to improve patient care
 Meet other genetic, scientific, medical, and/or industry experts
 Understand genomics market
 Understanding reimbursement and payor environment

Genome Upload Consent Form

Your Genome Online

As part of your participation in the Understand Your Genome event, your genome can be made available to you through the Understand Your Genome Community website. This website enables you and other UYG attendees to learn about genomics, explore your genome anytime and anywhere online, and discuss important topics with fellow UYG alumni. The Understand Your Genome Community website is not part of nor operated by the Illumina Clinical Services Laboratory that performed your sequencing and interpretation.

Security of Your Genome

The Understand Your Genome Community website is hosted on the Amazon AWS service. We chose to host the website on AWS because of its wide variety of industry-accepted security standards. More information can be found at <http://aws.amazon.com/security>. In addition to the security gained through use of the AWS service, we have deployed a number of security measures to protect your genomic data. Using a secure connection, your de-identified genome is uploaded directly to our secure database hosted on AWS. Access is controlled through the use of a Genome Record Name and Genome Activation Key. User identity is managed through OpenID Connect using OAuth2.0 authentication and stored in an encrypted database separate from your genome.

Although we have taken measures to secure your genomic data, no system is 100% secure.

Understand Your Genome Community Website Features

The Understand Your Genome Community website enables you to learn about genomics, discuss important topics with colleagues, and explore your genome with the MyGenome web app. You may also explore other genomes if you have obtained their permission and activation codes. The MyGenome web app includes an interpretation browser and a chromosome browser which can be used to explore how your genetic variants may affect your health. Features which may be added to the website include comparing your de-identified data to UYG population statistics, sharing your Genome with others, enabling you to donate your genome to research, and allowing you to access your genome through 3rd party applications.

Genome Uploading Process

In order to facilitate your access to the UYG Community website during the Understand Your Genome event, Illumina will upload your genome to the website prior to the event.

Site Registration Process

To access the UYG Community website, you will need to register by entering your email address and creating a password. Once registered, you will need to login with your username and password every time you enter the site. You will be automatically logged off after 10 minutes of inactivity. You may reset your password at any time if lost or forgotten.

Genome Activation Process

After you have registered for the UYG Community website, you can activate your Genome through the UYG Community portal home page using your Genome Record Name and your Genome Activation Key. Your Genome Record Name is included in your clinical report. You will receive your Genome Activation Key separately.

Genome Removal Process

You can remove your genome from the UYG Community website by using the "Remove Genome" feature on the home page.

Authorization to Upload Your Genome to the Understand Your Genome Community Website

I agree that I have read the above, understand that the Understand Your Genome Community Website is not a part of or operated by the Illumina Clinical Services Laboratory (ICSL) that performed my sequencing and interpretation, and authorize Illumina to upload my gVCF file from ICSL to the Understand Your Genome Community website.

*I understand and give my consent to the authorization above.
